As new research continues to show, the cultural gap between secularism and the convictional Church continues to widen. KidMin and youth leaders are asking, "Are we adequately discipling today's kids to lead the future of the church in a culture that's becoming increasingly hostile to the gospel?" For many, the answer is "no," and a new conversation around making Resilient disciples is emerging. Resilient is an honest calling to ask robust questions about the future; it is a timely conversation in the midst of changing cultural landscapes; and it's a love letter to KidMin leaders and disciple makers to walk this road of child discipleship together. Resilient Child Discipleship focuses on three key areas, essential for shaping long-term faith: Belonging - Highly relational ministry led by a loving and caring adult Believing - Deeply Scriptural ministry rooted in the truth of God's Word and the power of the gospel Becoming - Truly experiential ministry, designed to move kids from simulation to real-world application of faith-based living Resilient equips you with an innovative, biblical and proven child discipleship philosophy to build your ministry around - plus practical questions to equip you and your team! Inspires and facilitates the crucial conversation of our time that will shape the future of the church Loaded with content to help your pastor cast vision and elevate the importance of children's ministry Helps cut through the clutter of the many responsibilities of KidMin to get to the most essential and effective aspects of children's ministry that most influence long-term discipleship into adulthood Child discipleship is the leading factor when shaping the future of your church The culture is changing so rapidly and radically that the future is likely to look far different than the world we know today. The children's ministry community has new conversations to explore as we prepare today's kids to lead the fearless future of the church.

Theology was once considered the queen of the sciences and our knowledge of culture largely understood through religion. Now our world has created a wall dividing faith from both science and culture. But what if science and culture actually informed and strengthened our faith? This study will help you see the incredible relationship between faith and science and how they serve as signposts to God Himself.

Relationship is the greatest faith-shaping tool a parent possesses. Because kids learn about following Christ mostly from their parents, we have a huge responsibility to model authentic faith and its practice on a daily basis. Steve and Valerie Bell offer Faith-Shaped Kids as a practical tool to help parents maximize their relationship with their children in such a way as to draw them to faith. Filled with life lessons and useful suggestions, this resource helps readers ride out the roller-coaster ride called parenting. Faith-Shaped Kids is co-published with the Willow Creek Association (WCA). The WCA is affiliated with Willow Creek Community Church, the largest church in America, and serves thousands of pastors and Christian leaders through North America. Its primary goal is to foster local church transformation and vitality.

Could there be actual evidence for the person of Jesus, His miracles, the biblical testimony about Him, and even the resurrection? This study not only reveals what we can know about the most famous person in history and the historical evidence behind His death and resurrection, but also answers the question, Is the Bible, as the source for the majority of this information, a reliable and trustworthy historical account?

Parents long to help their children reach their full potential. They schedule regular medical exams, get them involved in planned activities, help them with their homework, and invest for their college education. Yet while they may plan for their success, they can overlook a vital part of their personal development: nurturing and encouraging a solid, lasting foundation of faith. We often assume that children are growing spiritually through church youth groups and programs. But it's essential that parentstake an active, encouraging, and purposeful role in guiding them in their relationship with Jesus. The life of Joseph offers parents a Biblical standard for building children of character. Using his story, this book will help them do just that.

No one can deny that our culture is opposed to Christian values, and the influences bombarding our children ' s moral development can be deadly. But few parents and church leaders realize how critical it is to start developing a child ' s biblical worldview from the very earliest years of life. The problem is complex: parents who themselves did not receive early spiritual training leave their children ' s training to the church. Yet the church often focuses on older children—not realizing that a child ' s moral development is set by the age of nine. The answer is for churches to recognize the need to come alongside parents to provide them biblical worldview training, parenting information, counseling, etc., that will equip them to help their children become the spiritually mature Church of tomorrow. Profiles presented of churches who are effectively ministering to children and winning the war our enemy is waging against them / Research orientated books on childhood spiritual development.
